NO HURRY NOW TO LEAVE MEXICO DECLARES BRYAN

Sends New Orders to Americans Through Consul General

LIND DOES NOTHING

Little Progress Apparent By Huerta In Pacifying Nation

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7.—Americans need be in no hurry to leave Mexico according to the latest instructions to the consuls from the State Department at Washington. Consul General Shanks has sent the following message to the consuls in his jurisdiction: "Through the influence of the consul's the exodus of Americans should be guarded against, by informing them that it is not necessary to rush away; government advises being that they should leave as soon as they can make proper arrangements. They should not consider themselves ordered out or warned of immediate threatening danger, but should realize that they are to leave as soon as reasonable arrangements can be made."

Those Americans who insist upon leaving Mexico have been instructed to make use of the commercial vessels pending efforts of the government to procure suitable steamers for their transportation.

FEDERALS LOSE RECENT BATTLES

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 7.—Mexican federals lost heavily in recent battles with constitutionalists in the vicinity of Tampico, according to advices received here today. At Tam-popol the entire garrison of government troops is said to have been killed by rebels, who occupied the town. In another fight forty-three of the fifty federal troops engaged were killed, according to the rebel advices.

FEELING SUBSIDES AT BORDER TOWNS

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 7.—Official Juarez subsided today in outward feeling against Americans because of the shooting of Lieutenant Frank Acosta by government officers here Saturday, following the investigation by Mexican courts of this city and Inspector Dibold. The officials of Juarez gave citizens of the Mexican town to understand that they would not countenance and public anti-American demonstrations. As a result when a few Americans visited Juarez during the day no one was molested or threatened.

The feeling among the rank and file of the garrison and the citizens is still intense but because of the stand taken by the officials of the town in the matter they dared not display it.

It was learned from official sources today that the entire military force of Juarez was assembled at the garrison following the shooting, slept on their arms during the night. Inspector Dibold was in conference with the military commanders of Juarez for several hours this morning. He will forward reports of his investigation to the Mexican foreign office.

The heavy guard of United States troops is still maintained at the two approaches to Juarez from El Paso, although General Hugh G. Scott orders of Saturday night for all officers and men to remain at quarters were rescinded today.

Federal officers in Juarez did not claim the body of Acosta, although they had asked permission for its removal to Juarez after the shooting. The body was quietly buried here today.

United States Immigration Inspector T. N. Heffernan and Customs Officer T. F. Jones, charged with the shooting of Lieutenant Acosta, will be given a preliminary hearing Monday.

CHINESE COLONY OF 1000 FOR MEXICO

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Chinese in the party of 300 who arrived on the steamer Chivo Maru Thursday and are now confined at the immigration station at Angel Island said today that a large Chinese agricultural colony to be established near Guaymas, Mexico, is their destination. The big party is to be sent through to Mexico on a special train under hand.

Over 1000 Orientals, it is said, have left China to join the colony within the past month. One ship load of 800 sailed directly from Hongkong. It is not known what interests are behind the colonization project.

NO PROGRESS IN PACIFYING COUNTRY

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 7.—There have been no negotiations recently between Lind, President Wilson's representative, and General Huerta or any of Huerta's cabling and there appears to be no probability that a reply will be made to Foreign Minister Gambo's note.

The information which Lind has collected is calculated to convince him that General Huerta is making but little if any real progress towards the general restoration of peace and that there is a growing unrest in the capital. He agrees with Foreign Minister Lind and the opinion most commonly expressed to the envoy is that General Huerta will recommend in his presidential message a postponement of the elections under a clause in the constitution which provides that no elections shall be held in case of an too disturbed state of the country.

THIRTY EARTHQUAKES ARE REPORTED FROM FRENCH WEST INDIES

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique, Sept. 7.—A series of earth shocks occurred here early this morning. The shocks numbered thirty, but no material damage is reported.

TO PAY MILITIA FOR FIGHTING FIRE

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—Citizen soldiers who were summoned last night by Governor Johnson to fight the rugged Mount Tamalpais forest fire will be paid an aggregate of $250 for their services. State Controller Chambers has sent a warrant for that amount to the officers of the companies called out.

DELTA FARMERS DISCUSS OVERFLOW

Consider Possible Danger From Diversion of Water

Of Kings River

(Special to the Republican)

STOCKTON, Sept. 7.—Crop and market questions and the protection of the Delta section from danger of overflow by the diversion of the waters of the Kings River from Tulare Lake into the San Joaquin River were the chief topics discussed at the second annual meeting of the Delta Association of California at Middle River, where about half hundred land owners and crop experts gathered to talk over their common needs.

During the meeting, the visitors were shown over the experimental farm of the association conducted under the direction of the Department of Agriculture by William Shear, expert in the culture of potatoe, and after luncheon an address was made by Col. John P. Irish, president of the association, on the necessity of co-operation among the Delta farmers to secure needed police protection, better roads and protection from schemes that might result in serious overflows.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Completion of dry excavation of the Panama canal yesterday, just ten days ahead of schedule time, advanced the work on the great waterway almost to the final stage. Much digging and cleaning out remains to be done in Culebra cut and along the route, but this will be accomplished by mammoth dredges.

An army of men will be busy the next four weeks removing steam shovels from the nine mile channel in Culebra cut between Gamboa dike and Pedro Miguel locks. This is preparatory to turning water into the canal from Gatun Lake on the Atlantic side on October 6, five days in advance of the date set for dynamiting Gamboa dike. The water will be introduced through 26-inch pipes extending underneath the dike and although the five day period hardly will suffice to fill the channel to one-half the canal level enough will be let in to act as a cushion against the explosion when the dike is destroyed.

While the cut is being cleared of earth and equipment, dredging and blasting will be going on at the bottom of the channel, loosening up rock and earth for the dredges that soon will be plowing through the water. Sixty of the shovels will be continued in removing material from the east and west banks to lessen the danger from slides.

The destruction of Gamboa dike leaves only one such obstruction along the canal route—the dike over which the railroad crosses the Gatun locks, which can be removed at any time. The last barrier on the Pacific side, the Miraflores dike, was dynamited just a week ago, turning Pacific tide-water into a canal 5000 feet long, 500 feet wide and 41 feet deep.

Dredges are now navigating this channel and on the Atlantic side a big suction dredge steamed on Gatun lake up to a point near the Gamboa dike ten days ago.

Small vessels will be able to pass through the canal from end to end October 10, and the water should be ready for shipping proper early in December.

CAMINETTI BOASTS HE WILL ESCAPE

Figures On Plea of Territorial Morality to Save Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Drew Caminetti believes he will escape the penalty of the Mann white slave law under which he and Maury J. Diggs were convicted in the U. S. district court.

"I believe we shall have no trouble in getting this verdict reversed," he said in the view taken by William A. Heister, member of the jury that convicted Caminetti, who now says he regrets having voted convict Caminetti.

"I voted to find Caminetti guilty to save his father and his mother from a lot of useless counsel fees," declared Heister. "I regard the verdict as a disgrace to the United States and I believe it will be reversed. That is one of the main reasons why I agreed to it."

"When we began to deliberate, the question was put up to the jurors that there was not a man among the twelve who had not at some time in his career done the same thing young Caminetti had done. This was debated up and down, but it was finally agreed that the jury could not do anything but convict in the face of the instructions given by Judge Van Fleet."

Heister said that Francis Carolan, the wealthy clubman who served as a juror, wanted to return a verdict of guilty on the first three counts.

"I told him I'd stay out until next Christmas if anything like that was decided upon," declared Heister.

The thought of facing sentence next Wednesday is not giving Caminetti any concern. Referring to the case, he said it was one of "territorial morality."

The only thing the jurors could find me guilty of," he said, "was in leaving for Reno with Lola Norris. I should have been guilty of no offense had not crossed the state line with her. It seems that I am made a victim of this Mann law because of a matter of geography."

RAINS RELIEVE TEXAS HEAT

DALLAS, Sept. 7.—General rains throughout northern Texas were reported today bringing relief from the excessive heat of the last few days which in some instances has broken all records for the season. The precipitation in Dallas was 1.5 inches.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 7.—Two tenths of an inch of rain fell in Oklahoma City and immediate vicinity late yesterday, while a moderate shower in the afternoon will continue Saturday. The temperature, which provides that no elections shall be held in case of an too disturbed state of the country.

Water Is To Be Turned Into Channel From Gatun Lake October 5

PANAMA, Sept. 7.—The dry excavation of the canal has been completed the steam shovel in the Culebra cut having removed the last rock yesterday. Further excavation of the canal will be completed by dredging.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Completion of dry excavation of the Panama canal yesterday, just ten days ahead of schedule time, advanced the work on the great waterway almost to the final stage. EIGHT CONVICTS ARE SUCCOATED

Negroes Are Kept In Dark Cell Without Any Ventilation

RICHMOND, Texas, Sept. 7.—Eight negro convicts confined in the "dark cell" of Camp No. 2 on the state farm at Harlem near here were suffocated last night and four others are seriously ill from effects of breathing foul air resulting from poor ventilation.

Negligent homicide formally was charged against Sergeant Sid Wheeler and two guards following a coroner's investigation. Then—meant—gave bond.

The dark cell has been used as a means of discipline since whipping was abolished. The cell is about ten feet long, seven feet wide and seven feet high. Ventilation is supplied by ten air holes, each one inch in diameter.

ZIONISTS HONOR AUSTRIAN JEW

VIENNA, Sept. 7.—Ten thousand Zionists representing Jewish societies in all parts of the world, paid homage today to Theodore Herzl's memory before his grave at Dobchitz. The spectacle was imposing and the procession occupied two hours in passing the tomb.

TWO GIRLS DROWNED

STONEHAM, Mass., Sept. 7.—Miss Ada Feingold, aged 20, of Worcester, a patient at a sanitarium, and her nurse, Miss Hazel Crummell, aged 21 of Akron, Ohio, were drowned in Quarter Mile Pond today.

The young women were out for a stroll when, according to a boy witness, Miss Feingold leaped into the water. Miss Crummell, although unable to swim, jumped in after her partner and was dragged to the bottom.

HAYEMAYER DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—William F. Hayemayer, one of the organizers of the American Sugar Refining company, which absorbed the business of the Hayemayer Brothers refinery, founded by his father, who once was mayor of New York, died suddenly Friday at the home of his son-in-law, William R. Wilcox, former chairman of the New York Public Utilities Commission. He was 63 years old. His disease was the cause.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 7.—Two tenths of an inch of rain fell in Oklahoma City and immediate vicinity late yesterday, while a moderate shower in the afternoon will continue Saturday. SEES GIRL'S FACE IN JAIL WINDOW; EAGER TO MARRY

Son of Fresno County Ranchman Has Romantic Adventure in Los Angeles

(Special to the Republican) LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—The face of a girl prisoner pressed against the bars of a window in the city jail here, a pair of binoculars, a note read through the glass from Hill street and the romance of it all promises to result in young Alyusia L. Pepper, the girl of a ranchman near Fresno, returning to his home with a bride whose name he does not yet know.

Pepper saw the face, tried to interpret signals, the girl glances at him, procured the spy glasses, indicated that she would write a note which he would read through the binoculars and ascertained the day—a week hence—when she would be released. She was dragged away before he discovered her name, or the charge against her. He asked the police tonight, if he might see the girl. The woman's ward, but was refused permission. He says he will wait until she is released, marry her and take her home with him.

CHICAGO PUBLIC HOSPITAL FULL OF GRAFTERS IS CHARGED

City and County Officials and Families Drive Out Indigent Patients

SCANDAL STIRRED UP

Policemen's Children Born

In Maternity Ward; One

Inmate With $300 Month

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The Cook county hospital, with a capacity of 1000, is kept full of county and city officials, their wives and their friends, that there is no room left for indigent patients, according to charges made today by County Agent Meyers in charge of the hospital.

The charge was made after County Commissioner Reagan had attacked Walter Wieskowski, an investigator kept at the hospital to keep persons or means from gaining admission to the Casalsouli Vivis y Tuto, prefect of from need of attention.

"Admission to the hospital formerly had been by card of a county commissioner," said Meyers, "and Reagan attacked the investigator when Wieskowski refused to admit a well to do patient with Reagan's card."

"In the maternity ward more than 10 per cent of the cases are wives of city policemen."

Reagan had his father dead all the property over to him and then had the father admitted to the hospital where he expected the old gentleman to spend the rest of his days.

"A city policeman was just discharged from the hospital when we learned that he owned flat buildings giving him an income of $300 a month."

BELIEVER WIFE DOES NOT LIKE HIM ANY MORE; SHOOTS HER

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Sept. 7.—In the presence of two men whom he had invited to his home to drink a bottle of beer with him, Samuel H. Eaton, a barber, shot and killed his wife here today. Eaton fled but was captured a short time later.

"I guess you do not like me any more," said Williams when his wife met him at the door. He shot her in the breast as he spoke.

SALESMAN FALLS TO DEATH IN LIGHTWELL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The body of David Dunlop, a traveling salesman who came here recently from Boston, was found today at the bottom-of-a-light-well-in-an-apartment-house. It is believed Dunlop fell out of the window of his room which is forty feet above the bottom of the light well.

WILSON PREPARES WINTER PROGRAM

Anti-Trust, Railroad and

Currency Plans Have

Been Outlined

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The program of anti-trust, railroad and currency legislation that faces Congress for the ensuing twelve months has become fairly well outlined in the last week. President Wilson and the Democratic leaders of the two houses of Congress apparently have agreed upon an ambitious plan of legislative work, which will bring all of the most important reforms contemplated by the Wilson administration within the period between now and the end of the next regular session of Congress.

Talking Movies Entertain Audience at Barton With Edison's Late Invention

The missing link—figuratively speaking—of the realization of the motion picture was seen by a small crowd at the Barton last night when Edison's talking movies opened a week's engagement in this city. While this is the first time that talking pictures have ever been shown in this city the attraction did not bring out as large a house as it deserves. But this fact does not worry the management of the talking pictures as it has been the experience in every city that the crowd will not turn out until the success of the entertainment is noted about the town by the satisfied patrons.

Edison has given the movie followers all that can be conceived in motion pictures. The actors on the screen actually talk, laugh, sing and can be distinctly heard by the audience. The future of the talking movies cannot be foretold as this age for what uses can be made of these pictures are almost unbelievable and cannot be imagined. Speeches made by great statesmen may be taken by the kinetophone and shown to audiences a decade from now. Famous opera singers may be seen and heard by multitudes at the "movies" who could not pay the price of admission to hear the singer at a theater or may never have the opportunity. Political campaigns may be carried on over the telephone by the talking movies as the candidate can make his appeal to it—or to the next thing to it—as in person.

The voice of the actor or actress is reproduced simultaneously with his or her actions upon the screen. The enunciation of words can be distinctly

PARLIAMENT IS FULL OF GRAY-HAIRED MEN

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Gray hairs have found a welcome sanctuary in Parliament. In the world of commerce and in industry this is the age of the young men; they fill positions of responsibility and they do brilliant work. But where are the brilliant young men in Parliament? Young is of course a comparative term, and among the 670 members of the House of Commons are many who must be classed as young in the parliamentary sense; but if the modern standard of "too old at forty" were applied ruthlessly at St. Stephen's "all that was left of men, left of 60" would be "counted out." Immediately the orders of the day were called. There would not be a quorum left. "Too young at 40" is the maxim of Parliament.

The men who prevail in this assembly are all well advanced in the middle span of life, and the few who dominate it are either gray-haired or rapidly approaching the period when their locks will become so scanty that color is of no particular moment. The Unionists have the largest contingent of young men in the House; but where among them is the man under 40 whom members will flock in to hear?

Apart from Bonar Law, the name of Austin Chamberlain or F. E. Smith upon the indicator is a clarion call to members; but whose debaters in the prime of life and vigor would have to be ruled out under the age limit of forty, while the Unionists, who will attract the biggest House, far out of all others, will in from tea-room or library as a tribute of personal affection for Arthur Balfour, the Prince of Parliamentarians, have grown gray in its service years ago.

The most magnetic personality on the liberal side, Lloyd George, is gray. He has grown grayer in a session—though not from age; and he sits beside a very-hairied and fast-aging Premier and a Secretary for Ireland (Mr. Birrell), whose hair is assuming a very venerable tint. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, himself strong and robust at sixty-two, has scarcely a young man in his party; and Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, whose bushy hair is more than sprinkled with gray, leads a party wholly made up of men who are of middle age or past it.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH ERUPTION

Spread Over Entire Face, Itched and Burned Terribly. Heavy White Crust, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Made Complete Cure.

810 East Kim St., Streeter, Ill.—"A burning sore broke out above my right eye, which spread over my entire face. It started as a small pimple. I scratched it open and the contents of this small pimple ran down my face. Wherever this ran a new sore appeared. They itched and burned terribly. I couldn't touch my face it burned so. It disfigured my face terribly and I couldn't be seen for everyone was afraid of it. It looked like a disease of some kind; it was all red and a heavy white crust on it. Everybody kept out of my way, afraid it would spread. I lost rest at night and I couldn't bear to have anything touch my face, not even the pillow. I had to lie on the back of the head. I was always glad when morning came so I could get up. It was extremely painful."

"I used—salve with small results. As last I thought of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I commenced using them. I used the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, one twenty-five-cent cake of Cuticura Soap and a half box of the fifteen-cent size of Cuticura Ointment. It took three weeks to complete the cure." STORY OF NEW YORK LIFE SHOWN IN MOVING PICTURES

"The Gangster," a new and unusual photo story of New York criminal life and the perilous mission work in which so many New York society girls are at present engaged, is to be the feature of the big, new program at the Fresno Photo Theater today and tomorrow. The story is an exceptionally absorbing one. Edith and Tom, lovers who are engaged in mission work, are in a crowd in the New York slums, attracted by a police raid on a notorious gang, the leader of which is Phil, then being roughly handled by the officers. Believing they can reform him, they secure his release and he regularly attends their mission. He falls in love with Edith and finally comes to her to accept her invitation and marry him, threatening to kill her lover. Knowing his true character, she fears that otherwise he would carry out his threat.

Tom searches them out but his visit is anticipated by Phil and frightened by additional threats, Edith is compelled to tell Tom that her marriage to Phil was out of love. Phil, after returning to his old life, is arrested with his gang and Edith, now the mother of a child and dying, sends for Tom, confesses all and begs him to care for her baby, knowing that in its father's care it would not receive a proper care. Phil later learns of this and his gang swears vengeance. He arranges for Tom to be brought to death by a black-widow spider. Edith succeeds in saving her child but is repulsed by her. He finds and reads Edith's letter to Tom and undergoes a change of heart. He then hurries to rescue Tom who has already fallen into the trap. After superhuman effort he takes the bomb from the hub only to be mortally injured. He calls for Tom, asks forgiveness and admonishes her to carry out Edith's wishes.

BIOGRAPH WESTERN STORY

With Blanche Sweet, Henry Wilcoxon and Walter Miller included in the cast the biography contribution to the program will be "Two Men of the Desert." Both in love with the same girl, they leave for the Alaskan gold fields, leaving a coin to see which shall return for her. When returning the successful meets with an apparently fatal accident. The other goes to the girl and telling her that the other is dead, wins her hand and is married. The stolen happiness is enjoyed until the unexpected return of the other, who the girl had really loved. The story is intensely dramatic and includes some excellent scenery.

STRANGE TRAITS OF SERPENTS.

For the purpose of diffusing knowledge about reptiles of which the general public is eternally in mortal terror, the Pathé Company has issued an educational film under the auspices of Dr. Dittmar, curator of reptiles in the New York Zoo. All kinds of reptiles, venomous and otherwise, are shown and their habits and characteristics explained.

THE LIVING AUTO POLO.

Auto polo, the latest, thrilling sport being indulged in New York, is shown in another picture. Four autos, their drivers and the malletmen are engaged in the game and their efforts toward victory endanger their lives constantly during the contest. Their speed during the game is hair-raising.

SCREAMING PATHÉ COMEDY.

Wishing to risk his money on a prize fight, an unkeeper tells his landlord that he is unable to pay the rent. Later he finishes his roll-and-a-trump attempts to steal it but is thrashed by the landlord. The unkeeper runs for the sheriff and, meanwhile, the landlord has complained to the sheriff and they are on their way to find the negligent tenant who escapes for the time being. They find the tramp who asserts that the landlord robbed him. The landlord and sheriff continue their search for the landlord while the tramp limps at the bar and departs on a donkey. The landlord is found, squares his bill and then returns to the inn. When the tramp returns he gets "stung."

The Duke of England is another big feature. There is an absorbing story to the plot. Mrs. Fitzsimmons appears as the Princess, daughter of the king who has commanded the grand duke (Mr. Dano) to appear at court to woo the princess.

The duke, his time taken up with a revolution against the king and the gay life of the cafes, refuses to appear and the Princess, to gain an insight into his manner of living, disguises as a cabaret girl and goes to his favorite cabaret. There the prince duke sees and falls in love with her, believing her to be a cabaret girl. When he proposes a toast to the revolution and the downfall of the king she dashes her glass to the floor and proclaims herself daughter of the king. The duke still professes his love for her and renounces the revolution. The scenery is magnificent and the chorus of men and women is composed of excellent singers and dancers.

"EDISON TALKING MOVIES," AT THE BARTON THEATER ALL THIS WEEK

"Jerry and Mandy's Anniversary"—Edison Talking Pictures at the Barton.

A decidedly pleasing and astounding entertainment was the exhibition of the latest "Edison Talking Movies," at the Barton last night. Without a doubt these pictures are the best and most entertaining ever presented in the world's history. They made a profound impression on the audience and voices of the actors and actresses are marked by the realism of the present day stage. The audience sat in absolute silence as they saw the pictures flashed upon the screen and heard the voices of each character with as much clearness as if the players on the screen were actually talking.

They produce the thrills that are experienced by persons who witness wonderful and unaccountable things. Those who saw the pictures last night were carried away by them. The world's generally conceded and most wonderful invention is the Kinetophone, which is destined to completely revolutionize the amusement world. The Edison Talking Pictures will be the attraction at the Barton for seven more nights in light and grand opera, in comedy and serious drama.

UNIONISM'S GROWTH IS DUE TO APPLICATION OF GOLDEN RULE

Dr. Breeden Maintains Principles of Christ Coming Into Their Own

Says Boycott Of Saloon In Future Would Be Great Labor Victory

The growth of Union Labor through application of the Golden Rule in business relations was created by Dr. Harvey O. Breeden, pastor of the First Christian church last evening. In his sermon on "Unionism—The Brotherhood of Labor," the first of a series of world movements of today, he said: "The greatest possible factor toward the elevation of the laboring class and Union Labor would be the boycott of the saloon, asserted the preacher, saying that the saloon was doubtless the brother's greatest enemy."

The next subject in this series is "Socialism—The Brotherhood of Man," which will be treated in the sermon next Sunday evening.

The text selected by Dr. Breeden last night was Matthew 23:8, "And all ye are brethren." He said in part:

"Labor Day" was of the greatest of our national holidays, had just passed. The occasion belongs, peculiarly, to more than two million workmen who labor mainly with their hands, who give allegiance to the American Federation of Labor. But in reality it belongs to America, for all share in its benefice.

Organized labor, the most outstanding and significant fact in the industrial world, has a right to be congratulated on its history and its achievements.

Pale People Are In Peril

Some Form of Nervous Breakdown Always Threatens Them

Pale people are always nervous. There is a closer connection between blood and nerves than most people know for all the nourishment that the nerves receive reaches them through the blood. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, known everywhere as a blood builder, have helped so many people with exhausted nervous systems, so many sufferers from neuritis, sleeplessness, nervous headaches, and other nervous troubles.

You will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills different from other remedies. It is almost impossible to take these pills into the system without getting good results.

Your own druggist can supply you with the old-time, reliable remedy that builds up the blood and strengthens the nerves—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

ARMY SURGEON HAS DIABETES

I hereby certify the genuineness of the following correspondence:

A retired army surgeon living in Redding, Cal., wrote the John J. Fulton Co. that he had diabetes and had taken in the Diabetes Compound without results and he neglected their honesty. He has written in reply concerning patience and a half dozen bottles were sent him to hold him to the treatment till he could get results. Later he sent money order for more. His last letter dated Aug. 26, 1913, closes: "I think I am quite well. I have lost all trace of sugar and have no longer any thirst. Will write you when I think I am well."

Attest: THOS. S. BURNES,

Navy Public, San Francisco. In the interest of the diabetes of the country we invite the physicians of San Francisco to investigate our correspondence with this retired army surgeon.

Another recent recovery reported in a case of diabetes is that of Prof. J. J. Pennecker, supt. of schools, Hoquiam, Wash.

It is sheer ignoramus to say that Diabetes is incurable simply because Cadeen does not control it. If I might add or over $80 you owe it to your family to try Fulton's Diabetes Compound before giving up? At druggists for literature write John J. IN FRESNO

The Evidence Is Supplied by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Fresno, what can it be?

C. J. Resinol, restaurant, 322 M. St., Fresno, Cal., says: "Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the Baker & Colson Drug Co. I had been bothered off and on for several years by kidney and bladder trouble. I got but little rest at night. My back ached at night and in the morning I couldn't stoop or straighten. I had dizzy spells and headaches and felt as though every bit of ambition had left me. Nothing did me any good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. The secretions from my kidneys were in bad shape and were filled with sediment. To my surprise and delight I felt like a different man two weeks after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They fixed me up all right and since then I have recommended them at every opportunity. Nothing else ever did me as much good as Doan's Kidney Pills."

turn it has steadfastly pushed its cause in every state of the Union, always with an eye single to its own advantage, it wields in the various state legislatures, and even in Congress a political influence of which all parties are afraid, and to which all have been more or less subservient. It has increased its financial resources. It has perfected a vast and complicated mechanism, enabling it to deal on equal terms with the most formidable organizations of capital. As a system affiliated with no party, yet ready to trade and traffic with all, it occupies a strategic position. And its responsibilities are grave as its powers are great.

Labor Here to Stay

The attempts to destroy the trades unions have been many and vigorous and futile, but they grow stronger every year, and with it, I believe, continue to increase in influence and power until a better, a more Christian social order obtains. The organization of capital and the organization of labor has come, as the phrase is, "to stay." It should be said frankly and with emphasis, though it is not popular with some audiences to say it—that workingmen have gained immensely by their organization. They have won magnificently in their contention for shorter hours of labor and better wages and more sanitary conditions of labor. The influence of organized labor upon legislation for the general betterment of the conditions of labor and the reward of labor is patent to all.

It may be said truthfully and it ought to be said forcefully, that while workingmen still have some hardships and wrongs that ought to be adjusted, in no country on earth are they as highly favored as here in America. They are better paid, better fed, better clad, better housed, better educated, better treated on the great principle of brotherhood than anywhere else on earth. There is more opportunity, more aspiration, more chance to rise than anywhere else; less class distinction, more homage paid to character and manhood. In some measure unison has helped to bring this about, but in greater measure it is because the principles of Jesus Christ are more dominant than elsewhere. It is because the principle of the Golden Rule is operating both in the ranks of capital and labor. Great captains of industry as well as leaders of labor unions have contributed to the splendid result.

Recently a great increment passed into the Cazen House from New York City Robert C. Ogden. He was part of John Wanamaker's store in New York. With all his manifold business enterprises he gave much service to religious and philanthropic work, and unstinted thought and attention to industrial problems. A few months ago a dinner was given in his honor by three hundred business men. When Mr. Ogden spoke he said: "The time has passed when a single man alone in his office can settle what his workmen shall be paid for their labor. The workman has something to say about that. He is not always reasonable and just, but he has a voice in the question and must be heard. Has labor any moral rights in a successful business over and above the market price of his service which we assume has been paid?" I believe it has such a right—a moral equity in the net profits—and I do not believe that a full application of the Golden Rule will have been made until that obligation has been recognized and paid."

What startling, wondrous words are those coming from a sane, strong man of affairs, a leader in the commercial world? They would be called revolutionary if uttered by a labor leader. They are only wise and true and timely Christian words.

DRINK ENEMY OF LABOR.

The most deadly enemy of the laboring man in our time is the drink habit. It is not extravagant to say that fully three-fourths of the evils which prey upon the workingmen of our time are caused by the use of intoxicating liquors. By far the larger part of ordinary wage-workers in our cities, especially, have no homes of their own, and many of them have hardly the common comforts of life. Why? Because they have been oppressed by cruel employers? Undoubtedly so, in many instances—but by far the greater number have found themselves in sorrow by carrying long at the wine. Nearly all the drunks and divines in labor are supported mainly by our laboring men. The hard earned money which should be used in providing homes and making them comfortable and happy is spent in rioting and drunkenness. This curse not only takes away the cunning of the hand and the lustre of the eye but, worse still, destroys at length the character of the victim, maiming him both unskilled and unprepared in life.

The choice gifts of life are only obtained through persistent effort and self-determination. The choice gifts are denied all who are unwilling to set their face like flint against the basic self-life.

We are all creatures of fierce passions and desire which pass one if we allow to run rampant will ultimately consume us. We have multitudes of examples around us. Men who have been enslaved by drink and lust, others who are destroyed by stubbornness, pride and jealousy. Even religious passion must be kept in control or we set like flint to overcome the selfish or we shall be shackled by almost everything in life.

MATERIALISM

It is folly to try and control the material world until the self-life is subdued, yet I will advance to this section of obtaining the choice gifts. Am I not right in the assertion that this is the age of material devotion? The Christian world has never been called upon before for such persistent determination against materialism? President Hadley of Yale well said, "There are three ideals of life for us to choose from, the Stoic, the Epicurean and the Christian." The Stoic and Epicureans agree that one world at a time is enough, the multitudes have joined these classes and are sacrificed with the other world for this. The Christian world has never been called upon before for such persistent determination against materialism.

It is often with great power riches and ability there is some other condition to subtract from complete happiness. Some times we look at a public man who is showered with honors and think what a great thing it would be to be a man who might stand out conspicuously in public life and be noted for great public services. But we just remember there are things to be subtracted. The public man must lose his soul, in the words of the text and he was constrained to do the bidding of the priest and was cured. The Deacon said in part:

INTERFERENCE OF "BUT"

"Naaman raged at first because he expected some great miracle to be wrought and could not understand the simple directions. Let me think for a moment of this man. Naaman was a great man with the king, his master, and was captain of the hosts of Syria, but he had leprosy. Did you ever think how often this little word 'but' interferes with the perfect enjoyment of prosperity or health? Naaman was rich, honored and a lord in his land, yet there is this to be extracted—he was a leper."

GAS APPLIANCES

It follows then that he was what he claimed to be, the Son of God and the Saviour of the world, et cetera stand then with Peter and from our hearts exclaim, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God." All who thus accept Him and faithfully follow him find him the object of love among the ten thousand and the one altogether lovely.

POISONED ATMOSPHERE

Perhaps the reason why the tendency at the present is a search for the things that are seen arises from an atmosphere poisoned with unfulfillness and religious fanaticism.

The daily newspapers flood every town and valley. Like the old circuit riders the daily newspaper follows man wherever he can be found and preaches his gospel.

Sparingly a week rolls past without some great church leader or some religious cults having a smirky trial somewhere. The big paper makes the news known in the back page, until everyone begins to read it and the whole of humanity is daubed with sin and deceitfulness. By this many find an excuse for their own shortcomings.

Many more find a way out of their pile of duty. Let me remember there is no excuse from the path of right. And in the face of this poisoned atmosphere we should set ourselves for the obtaining of the choicest gifts of life.

ASTUTE VINDICATION

Again if we are to obtain such gifts it will be necessary to set our face like flint against astute vindication.

The great temptation of us all is to judge the great enterprise of life just when we are called upon to pay the price for it. Jesus could have relinquished his enterprise by just letting it pass by, but he would only have saved himself by the sacrificing of others. The man who thus sells his soul immediately becomes repellent to the higher things of humanity. A good husband or wife is known by how much they sacrifice to save each other. This form of duty comes not all in one direction or other and to enter the larger sphere of life it will be necessary to set our face like flint against astute vindication.

Let us for a moment consider the outcome of a persistent pursuit of the righteous ideal.

PURSUIT OF IDEAL

The law of continuance makes impregnable. If man becomes a subject to the law of continuance he is led captive by the things he pursues and these things become the body-guard of his life; therefore a persistent effort along the lines of divine purity and virtue becomes the body-guard of life.

Such men are not narrow men, but move in the largeness of the sphere of God. Such men must have ad-

TURN FACE OF FLINT TO MATERIALISM, URGES REV. HUGHES

Preacher At Y. M. C. A. Park Service Speaks for Christian Ideals

Pastor of Grace Methodist Tells Of Necessity Of Determination

The pursuit of Christian ideals with face firmly set against the "soft-life" materialism, a pale atmosphere of the present day was urged the listeners at the Y. M. C. A. park service yesterday afternoon in the address by Rev. Samuel Hughes, pastor of the Grace Methodist church.

"A Face of Flint" was the subject chosen by the pastor who selected his text from the fifth chapter of Isaiah, the seventh verse, where it is recorded "I will set my face like flint and shall not be ashamed." The prayer was offered by Reginald C. Hubbard and the scriptural reading given by Rev. Hughes. Mr. H. C. Bettis, who served during the Ministerial Union meetings, was head usher.

In his sermon, Mr. Hughes said in part:

Every man who has reached a valuable distinction has stood before a future full of light that has never grown dim.

"Would you like to know how I was enabled to serve my country?" said Admiral Farragut. "It was all owing to a reading of an ideal I formed when I was ten years of age."

A right ideal associated with an unbending purpose is well nigh invincible, but man must be sure that the ideal to which he sets his face-like flint is right. Such an ideal can only be accepted as right when associated with duty towards God and humanity. I suppose that from amongst the great host of resolute men none can be found stronger than Pharaoh, but he set his face like flint against God and man ultimately bringing about his own destruction. The same may be said of Cain. He set his face against Abel his brother and God his Protector and his resolve was stamped him as a vagabond and an outcast.

The choice gifts of life are only obtained through persistent effort and self-determination. The choice gifts are denied all who are unwilling to set their face like flint against the basic self-life.

We are all creatures of fierce passions and desire which pass one if we allow to run rampant will ultimately consume us. We have multitudes of examples around us. FOUR YEARS' RESULTS

Back in 1909, when the Lincoln-Roosevelt League was formulating the campaign in which Hiram W. Johnson later ran for governor, the Bakardieff Echo criticized the League for its purely negative and destructive program. The platform of the League, at that time, consisted practically of the plans on which Johnson made his primary campaign—to kick the Southern Pacific machine out of the government and politics of California. The Echo agreed with this, as far as it went, but demanded a positive program of constructive legislation also. The Republicans replied, insisting that the destructive task must first be accomplished, and that the primary fight must be conducted in it. But agreeing that the constructive program must then follow. And just for a suggestion of what such a program might be, the Republican proposed the following list, which it said was "enough to occupy the entire administration of not merely one reform governor and legislature, but several." The list is interesting, now, to compare with the actual accomplishments. It is as follows:

"A thorough-going revision of the law of criminal and civil procedure so as to restore our courts to civilization efficiency and justice."

"Separation of state and local taxation, with just indirect taxation on those proper sources of revenue which now largely escape taxation."

"An employer's liability act, making the employer, not the workman, take the ordinary risks of personal injury in the business."

"A short-ballot—making the minor state executive offices appointive, as the corresponding offices already are in the national government and in many local governments."

"A simplified direct primary law."

"Women suffrage—whatever the women want it; direct legislation—as much as the people want and will use it; local option, wherever the people want it; apply it."

"Reorganization of the State Railroads, commission making it appointive and increasing its powers; also giving it 'or to some other commission jurisdiction of inter-county irrigation, under power and transportation systems."

"A commission to prepare a thorough reorganization of the irrigation laws."

"Absolute separation of the administration of the public institutions from party politics, and an expert commission to investigate and recommend thorough-going reforms of our penal and charitable institutions."

"Modernization of the educational administration systems of state and counties."

"An effective arbitration law, on the model of the Canadian compulsory investigation and publicity, but voluntary arbitration."

"Better insurance laws."

"An improved state forestry department."

"An adequate state statistical bureau; provision for secondary agricultural education."

This was merely a suggestive list. A much more comprehensive program was actually adopted, in the first platform controlled by the League. But it is interesting, as the first suggested outline of a program of constructive work for the reform movement in California when its destructive work—above—have been accomplished. And it is interesting to see how much of what was then suggested is now the law of California. Of the fourteen suggestions above made, the only ones that are not yet accomplished are the short-ballot, the arbitration law, and the improved forestry bureau. The short ballot was proposed by the legislature of 1910, and was adopted as to the two offices within the control of the legislature and one other; but as to other offices it fell short of the two-thirds' vote in one or the other house. The arbitration law was proposed to the same legislature, but was defeated by a narrow legislature. The forestry law was passed by the legislature of 1912, but for certain temporary reasons, which will probably not apply next time failed to receive the governor's signature. All the other measures here proposed, together with many others of the same character, are now the law of California.

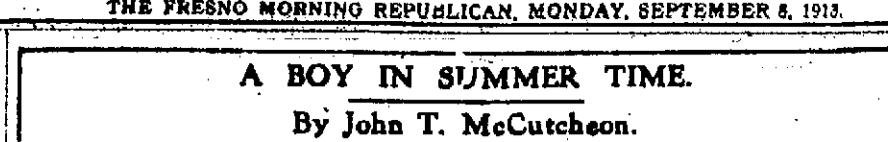

This was in 1909, over four years ago. Have we not moved since then?

TRY THIS FIRST

A club of business men in Portland is considering an initiative petition to abolish the legislature of Oregon and to put the state government in the hands of a commission.

The scheme may not be quite so wild as it appears. In fact, it is being seriously considered by responsible men in several states, and it is not improbable that it may be actually tried, or at least voted on, in some state, before long. Commission government has worked so well in many cities and legislative government works so badly in most states, that the idea of trying commission government in the states may be received with favoring ears.

But it would seem to be the part of wisdom not to experiment with such radical measures until we have at least made a trial of parliamentary government. Our present system has never given that a fair chance. Let the state ballot be shortened, so that the people will elect practically nothing but the governor and the legislature. Let the heads of the various departments appointed by the governor, constitute his cabinet. They could give, for administrative purposes, the efficiency sought by the commission government. For legislative purposes they could assume a

EUGENE FIELD

The movement started within the last week to erect a monument to Eugene Field in Chicago reminds us of one who was in his day the most popular of a large class of newspaper poets, and is still read and loved by thousands in all parts of the United States, although he is neither a best seller nor a model in the schools for English poetical style. It will be well to preserve his memory by a monument in Chicago. It will be even better to preserve it by continuing the reading his Love Songs of Childhood and other lyrics which with homesy and tunnypine phrase yet obtain an elevation of thought that may make us all gorder and happier.

A little boy steals from his morning play;
And under the blossoming apple-tree
He hides and he dreams of the things to be.

Over the hills and far away!
Over the hills and far away;

MRS. BERNSTEIN AGAIN SCHOOL PRESIDENT

Kings County Board Issues Teacher's Certificates to Applicants

HANFORD, Sept. 7.—Mrs. M. Bernstein was again elected president of the Kings county board of education when the board met today for reorganization for the year. Mrs. N. E. Davidson by virtue of her office, that of county school superintendent, is secretary. The other three members are Mrs. Hugo Buskner, Wm. C. Williams and Clyde E. Denham.

The board today granted grammar grade teachers' certificates to Ruth Ryan, Charlotte Fulton, Ethel Lang-Cook, Wright Elizabeth Trowbridge, Luella Shaw, Leona Shaw, Irma Wright, Mollie Hallibuck, Janet Neils, Jessie Guldberg, Letta Kapp and Mrs. Margaret Reynolds. A high school teachers' certificate was granted to Miss Mary P. Wright. The schools of Kings county open September 15, except in cases where the districts are new. In those cases the law says they must open the second Monday in September, hence a few will open Monday next.

SCHOOLS IN TAFT WILL OPEN TODAY

TAFT, Sept. 7.—Schools will open Monday in Taft. Supervising Principal J. E. Hamilton addressed the teachers at a meeting held Saturday and assignments were made of teaching.

The teaching force of the Conley district for the coming term comprises seventeen instructors, assigned to schools and grades as follows:

High School—Janie Michaels, principal; Alice Tupman, assistant.

Main Building—Anna E. Mitchell, principal and eight grade; Miss Edna Ross Adams, seventh; Miss Alice O'Brien, sixth; Mrs. Hazel Murray, fifth; Edna Sprung, fourth; Mrs. Irene Ledbetter, third; Lois Reynolds, second;

First—Mrs. E. F. L. Haydon, principal; and fourth grade; Mrs. Charles C. Cheney, third; Ollie McCutcheon, second; Hazel B. Worley, first.

Hill School—Helen F. Sutton, principal and fifth to eighth grades; Anna G. Morrison, first to fourth.

North American School—Mrs. Margaret Marlow.

No courses above the fifth grade will be offered this year in the North American School. Pupils advanced in the fifth grade who live in the North American district will be given instruction in the main building.

As the new building is not ready for occupancy, and will probably not be within a month, arrangements have been made to install classes of pupils living on the north side of the tracks in the main building as heretofore. Instruction will be given there in the main building until the new one is completed.

PLAN TO DEVELOP SUPPLY OF WATER

MADERA, Sept. 7.—A. A. Moore, of San Francisco, who owns 4,040 acres of land near this city in one tract, was here this week arranging to provide a water supply for the tract. He entered into a contract with a water company to furnish water to wells on his tract for the purpose of developing a supply for irrigation. Some time since he had expert visited the ranch with intent of analyzing the soil for practical purposes, and his report is convincing that a considerable portion of it is adapted to the growth of citrus fruits. Olives and alfalfa will also thrive on portions of it and if the wells promise a sufficient supply of water for irrigation, cactus, olives, alfalfa and alfalfa will be planted.

Old timers familiar with the country are quite confident that water will be obtained in sufficient quantity to irrigate the ranch, and if that proves the case developments will have an important bearing on the future of that part of the county.

The land is about 14 miles east of town.

SISTER'S HOSPITAL TO OPEN OCT. 1ST

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 7.—The new Sisters of Mercy hospital here will be ready for occupancy October 1. The building, costing $60,000, was built by F. J. Amweg of San Francisco. The walls are concrete, white finish, with red roof. The inside finish is all hard wood, with furnishings of old mission design, and all rooms where water is used have cement floors. The main entrance is approached by large steps, and is protected by a broad, two-tiered veranda, supported by pillars.

The ambulance entrance to build level with the balance of the building, making delivery easy. Kitchen, large and airy, vented so odors will not arise. In the basement is a boiler plant, and vacuum cleaning and elevator machinery, as well as a refrigerating plant for cooling the wards in summer. On the first floor are rooms for dining, medicines, linen, toilets, baths and patients, all connected with dumb waiter and elevator. A large veranda is built on the south side. The operating rooms are placed on the top floor and are well lighted.

HONEY CROP SHORT IN KINGS COUNTY

HANFORD, Sept. 7.—B. P. Shirk, who returned today from his apartment on Lake Tulare reports that his harvest of honey was but two gallons to the hive, whereas it should have been from five to six gallons of separated honey. The same shortage exists all over the county except on the sparsely populated hillsides.

As a result of the shortage Kings county honey producers are holding for 60 cents per pound or better. They have refused 55 cents. Tulare county producers who have stands of bees in the adjacent district around Corcoran are shipping at 60 cents per pound.

Naturally when men can't find other shoes that give as much real foot comfort as do Hurley's, they will cling to the Hurley habit.

FIX TAX RATE AT $1 FOR MARICOPA

MARICOPA, Sept. 7.—The trustees have fixed the tax rate for the coming year at $1. After going over the expenditures of the city for the past year, and estimating those that will be necessary for the coming year, the rate was fixed. The same was paid by the taxpayers a year ago. The sum of 75 cents of the levy was made to take care of the regular expenses of the city, and 25 cents to reduce and pay interest on the 1913 power bond issue. Saloon license payments are to be renewed at the next meeting Monday night. All of the assessments filed petitions for renewal.

KERMAN PRINCIPAL MUST FILL CONTRACT

School Trustees Will Not Let Him Be Compromised Principal At Turlock

KERMAN, Sept. 7.—R. W. Broecker, principal elect of the Kerman Union High School who has been mentioned as a compromise principal at Turlock, will not be released from his contract with the local trustees. This decision was reached by the local board this week after a conference at which Broecker was present.

The trustee felt that Broecker was the man they wanted to build up the Kerman Union High School and that his late date did not fit disposed to seek another man. School will open September 15.

Members of the faculty are expected here next week to arrange for the prompt commencement of instruction work. The contractors promise that the new domestic science bungalow will be ready upon the opening day.

As a convenience to faculty and pupils the school board has ordered a telephone placed in the main building. It will be on one of the rural lines of the Kerman exchange.

TULARE CANNERRIES
TO INCREASE FORCES

TULARE, Sept. 7.—The crew of cutters and packers at the Tulare Cannery Company will be greatly increased Monday, as large consignments of Phillip's limestone peaches are beginning to come in again.

The cannery has been running only its full force during the past week on account of a low supply of fruit, but buyers were sent to outlying territory during the week and heavier shipments will begin to come in early this week. It is probable that a night shift will be run all during the week.

HUGHSON BOOSTERS
FAVOR GOOD ROADS

Recommend That Commission Be Appointed Under New Law; Grade Crossings To Be Asked for

BIGHORN, Sept. 7.—The Board of Trade at its meeting this week took up several matters that have been pending for some weeks, among which was the movement for having the supervisors appoint a road commission under the new law, to investigate and make report on proposed new roads. It is believed such a body would help in carrying the proposed county road bonds. The matter of danger signals at Santa Fe grade crossings was given up, and the secretary instructed to communicate with the railroad commission and see what action may be necessary to secure this improvement. M. L. Brooks was elected a member.

Anton Swanson has completed his shipment of Thompsons to San Francisco. He will realize $100 per acre from his fruit.

E. F. Sawdry and family have returned from an auto trip to the coast.

Mrs. W. H. Hale, who was called here by the death of her sister, Mrs. Walter T. Soon, left for her home yesterday, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Crow.

Elmer Warner and wife are visiting Oakland.

C. A. Quaile left this week for Saskatchewan, Canada, to look after business interests.

The grammar schools opened this week with an enrollment of 221. One-half of the state textbooks ordered have been received.

J. N. Parlier and wife have returned home from their vacation in San Francisco.

The W. H. M. Society held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Parlier. There was a good crowd present.

Rev. Mullens of Selma, and family, visited with Rev. Boyd Monday afternoon.

J. N. Parlier and wife have turned home from their vacation in San Francisco.

Oscar Parlier got a concrete contract for Municipal System At Tulare; Pioneer Woman Dies; Notes.

TULARE, Sept. 7.—A contract has been awarded to Oscar Parlier to put in the concrete work for the new Tulare municipal plant. Work will begin immediately. Mr. Parlier arrived in this city this morning from Yosemite, where he has government contracts, and will remain until after the work is under way.

Mrs. Leland Sheppa of this city suffered a broken right arm today while cranking her automobile. The engine back-fired as it started.

E. J. Greenwood, manager of the Majestic theater, will leave Monday to attend the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association convention.

T. D. Fryman left last evening for a visit through the Eastern states.

Mrs. Anna Catherine Shore died this morning at 7 o'clock at the home of her son, Col. V. W. Shore. She was a native of Pennsylvania and 82 years of age. She had resided in this state 26 years. Besides her son here she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Alice Miller of Corcoran.

BENDER TRIPLES IN SIXTH INNING FOR RALLY

Bears Present Most Determined Battle Of the Week

Pinch Hitting Drives Adams Into Numerous Holes; Score 4 to 1

(Special to the Republican)

SAN JOSE, Sept. 7.—Effective hitting in the pinches by Cliff Bender, Fresno's crack centerfielder, clinched the game for the Packers today and they made a clean sweep of the series by taking the straight. The final score was 4 to 1. The Bears put up the most determined battle of the week and for a while it looked though they would break the visitors' winning streak. Adams pulled nine-out of several bad holes in the early innings—but triple in the sixth by Bender broke the ice.

The Bears scored their only run in the first inning. After Abbott had struck out, Smith walked. One hit and run play, Nagle hit an intended waste ball through Pekey's territory while the shortstop was running to second expecting to take a different throw to catch Smith stealing. Kau went to third and scored on Harper long sacrifice fly to Bender.

Cahan gave himself a lift in the eighth after ever, and after Adams had retired the next two batters, Bender took a last one to left. The ball took a lucky bounce over Harper's head and went for three bases, scoring Mental.

Hoffman opened the seventh with a single to center, Pierce sacrificed and Dutch scored on Wheeler's single to right.

Menzel opened the eighth with a triple to right, Fahey hit a short fly to Smith, who held Irish at third, saw her to Nagle, who threw a double out at the plate—and Bender drove through with his second hit, a single to left, which Harter allowed to get away from him and both runners scored. Score:

NEW BLOOD FIGURES

New blood is figuring largely in the games played from day to day as the season wanes. Pittsburgh seems to have found a valuable man in Luehrwon three straight games. Schwenglein, the Cincinnati powers, have being hit freely and again floundering

COMMERCIAL CLUB WANTS OVER 125 NEW MEMBERS

Big Membership Campaign
To Start Soon; May Raise Entrance Fee

Club Will Be Social As Well
As Civic Organization
Says Bart Harvey

The Fresno Commercial Club is planning a membership campaign to secure a total membership of 400 members, so that by the time they enter their new quarters, before the first of the coming year, they will be able to take up several civic matters that are contemplated together with the handling of the conventions committee. The club will be a social organization in one respect, but will take an active interest in all questions relating to the development of Fresno. It plans to work in conjunction with the various other organizations in regard to these matters.

Speaking of some of the plans mapped out for the Commercial Club for this fall which will be discussed at the meeting tomorrow, Bart Harvey, the secretary, said last night:

"The Commercial Club is going to be a social club in every respect but at the same time it is going to take an active interest in the development of the city. One of the big things which the board of governors have considered and passed is the appointment of a convocation committee composed of various professional and business men of Fresno who in their various capacities are members of one or another of the civic and commercial bodies of the city. This body of representative citizens has been chosen for the purpose of securing conventions for this city and seeing that they are well entertained and cared for while here so that when they leave they will have a good impression of Fresno and want to return at some other time."

CONVENTION POLICY

"In carrying out this work we will follow along the lines advocated by the convocations committee of Louisville, Ky., which is considered the best of its kind in the country. This will mean just twice the number of conventions secured here for the same amount of money that has been spent for this same purpose heretofore."

"In order to secure funds for this work we will probably form a stock association and sell stock or else have an annual assessment, thus eliminating the antiquated method of running around to the business men fifteen or twenty times a year soliciting funds until they are afraid we are after money every time we open their door. By carrying this work on in a systematic and businesslike method, we will save time and money."

"After this organization is in working order when delegates from this city leave for a convention in another city and want to secure the convention for the following year for Fresno, they will first talk the matter over with the convocations committee and see what steps may be taken to successfully swing the convention wanted for this city. Thus when they appear before the other delegates and ask that Fresno be designated as the next meeting place of their order, they will know just where they stand and what they can do to induce them to get them to come here."

"This is certainly a great week taken up even before we get into our new and permanent quarters. It re-

FRESNO STORY IN NEXT ISSUE OF "THE EARTH"

Will Tell Colonists of Advantages To Be Found In This County

Fresno county will have a boost story in the next edition of "The Earth," the official colonization paper owned by the Santa Fe railroad company. It will be a "WHAT'S WHAT" country-wide through its various agencies as an incentive to prospective farmers and farmers themselves to cultivate the soil and carry on their work in a business-like manner.

Secretary Robertson of the Chamber of Commerce has prepared a long article describing the agricultural resources of the county and the various crops grown in the different parts of the county and telling of the chances that await everyone who comes here as a settler.

As this article will appear while the colonist rates from the East to points in California are in effect, it is thought that it will induce many people to stop off here for a day or an look the region hereabouts over.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETS TONIGHT

Only matters of routine business and importance will come up at the monthly meeting of the board of health tonight, according to Dr. L. R. Wilson, the health officer.

Never some of the other civic bodies from a grave responsibility. The California Associated Railish company will however be expected to handle Railish Day. With the rapid growth of our city, every man interested in the welfare of Fresno should join the Commercial Club and the Chamber of Commerce. The late Dr. Rowell fore-saw the necessity of a convention hall and made preparations for it. This building will be completed shortly.

"I learned on my vacation that the Sacramento real estate men are claiming that their city is advertising that it is the heart of California, which it is not. Our own really exchange might give an impression against Sacramento's hand-shake."

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

"We want 400 club members by the time we move into our new quarters, which will be the best in Central California, and in this end the membership committee, together with several other live members, are getting ready to start a membership campaign. We know that there are several people waiting until we move into our new quarters before they join us. These we will get to enter our ranks immediately and to work for new members themselves."

"There are 275 club members at the present time and they have joined voluntarily. We feel certain that we will have 400 members all told by the first of the month."

"All our expenses in the Holland building will be far greater than they are now, and the quarters of the best, therefore a great deal of talk among many of the members to raise the application fee about January 1. The monthly dues will remain as they are."

"A great dent of the recent growth of Oakland is due to the activity of the Commercial Club there. On my recent trip to the Bay country I was a guest of Fred Reed of the Oakland Commercial Club and got a great many pointers as to what a Commercial Club can do for a city by seeing what they have done."

"They take an active interest in everything that is for the good of Oakland. By their concerted efforts with the aid of several other organizations, they were able to raise the bond issue for a new city hall from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000."

Having caught him in the act of selling liquor without a license, Detectives Goehring and Enos last night arrested Alex Will, who is employed by W. H. Barnum, with places of business at 663 G street. Will was cited to appear in the police court to answer to the charge. The detectives have been gathering evidence against the place for some time and decided to secure further proof yesterday evening. Entering rear door, Goehring and Enos confronted Will, who was serving whisky to two men. The patrons of the place will be called as witnesses.
